

Intensive interaction and attention autism introductory sessions

Free introductory training sessions for early years staff on two essential interventions for children with SEND.

Date: Thursday 8 February

Time: 1-3.30pm

Venue: Ealing Education Centre, Mansell Road, Greenford UB6 9EH

Intensive interaction

An approach designed to help people at early levels of development to learn how to enjoy being with other people, to relate, interact, know communication routines and the 'fundamentals of communication'.

Attention Autism

A four-stage intervention model based on the principle of offering an 'irresistible invitation to learn.' It is aimed at developing shared attention and natural, spontaneous communication and interaction through visually based and highly motivating activities.

Who should attend

Early years staff, teaching assistants and teachers.
