Introduction

The Ealing list of suppliers of approved alternative educational provision is set up by the Local Authority to ensure that the education of those students for whom it holds a direct responsibility can be met by placements in appropriately quality-assured and approved provisions.

The purpose of this Directory is to share with school colleagues, and with other professionals working with Ealing's more vulnerable young people, the offer from each Approved Alternative Provision supplier, and to give enough information so that initial contact and placements can be made directly if wished.

Placements can be made with the listed providers (and with any other provider identified as suitable by a school) by Ealing maintained schools under Section 29A of the Education Act 2002 and by academies in accordance with their Academy Trust's articles of association.

When considering using alternative provisions, every effort should be made to consider resources already available to Ealing schools, to ensure a graduated approach.

Using the Ealing directory of alternative educational provision

This directory gives information about a number of LA-approved providers for young people who have difficulties accessing, part or full-time, in their current school placement. These provider offers include virtual learning programmes, vocational and college options in addition to Ealing's Local Offer.

Schools wishing to work with providers will need to ensure that they have assured themselves that the provision can adequately meet the needs of the student(s) placed there and that it meets Health and Safety and Safeguarding thresholds as well as ensuring good attendance and progression.

Commissioning

Schools can negotiate terms and commission provision from any company on this list, or elsewhere, in accordance with current DfE requirements (see Alternative Provision – Statutory guidance for local authorities, January 2013).

Schools that commission independently will need to work in partnership with pupils, parents/carers and providers to ensure that both pupils and placement are supported and monitored. They will also need to be prepared to take action to resolve any issues arising.

Costs are updated at intervals and commissioners are advised to contact the Providers directly for current fees.

Schools are welcome to share the information on this directory and also to discuss possible placements with Adam Brazier, Head of Access and Inclusion, braziera@ealing.gov.uk

If schools identify new providers they consider should be added to the Directory or if you have concerns regarding a provider then please contact Brittany Eagle, SEND Commissioning and Resources Manager (eagleb@ealing.gov.uk).

Service description

BSOC is an independent construction school based in Hayes and Hounslow and offers courses and employment opportunities to people of all ages.

The courses run for an academic year and students typically attend two days a week for practical learning and one day a week for Functional Skills and PSHE/Enrichment.

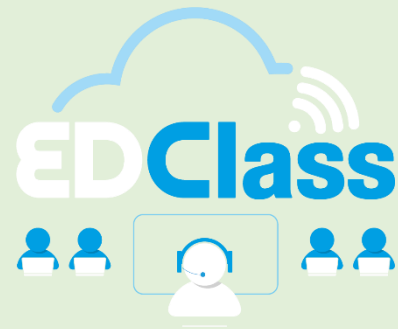

The provision for school aged students starts at 14 with options to progress onto higher level qualifications.

Programmes for older students are designed to train anyone interested in construction or upskill existing trades people.

The team have tutors with years of industry experience in their chosen field. The tutors are required to update their skills and knowledge, so they are familiar with modern construction methods and practice, ensuring that our students are well-prepared for the challenges ahead within the construction field.

The training programs cover a range of construction-related topics, from foundation skills to advanced techniques.

Graduating from the program means more than just learning. It means being recognised as a trained, skilled worker who is ready for the transition to employment or further training. Their qualifications are nationally recognised within the industry and are supported by partnerships with construction companies to provide steps into a work placement.

Primary need	SEMH, MLD, ASD
Referral process	https://ekoutreachservices.com/registration/
Resource required	N/A
Expected outcomes	Reengagement in learning, qualifications, life skills

Service description

EK Outreach Services is a SEND tuition service providing educational support to Local Authorities, Schools and Individuals. The trained and dedicated staff are led by a skilled and experienced leadership team. They work with children and young people of any age, up to age of 25. Students can be taught at their homes, online or at our Outreach Centre

Their aim is to improve the learning outcomes of children and young people for whom education has been a challenge either through their SEND needs, SEMH needs, or other reasons which may prevent them from fully accessing education. They carry out a full assessment to devise a customised timetable, focused on building on the learner's strengths and areas of interest whilst methodically tackling their challenges and gaps in learning.

Their curriculum is designed to cover both academic needs and life skills. They often commence our teaching using a hidden curriculum which helps to build strong relationships between staff and the learner. They believe that this is key to a successful teaching relationship. They aim to build their confidence and self-esteem and to provide accredited courses wherever possible.

As much as they enjoy building a relationship with our students and guiding them through their education, they are aware that our aim for most students is to eventually transition them back into formal education. To transition their learners and young people on to a setting where they can continue their educational journey, their staff will accompany them on visits and help them to familiarise with a new setting prior to them leaving their care. In most cases their staff will also attend their new provision with them to begin with in order to make a smooth transition.

A 1:1 tutoring service for students who are at risk of exclusion, permanently or temporarily excluded, school refusers, young offenders, SEN, disabilities, emotional or behavioural difficulties, serious health issues or those who are generally disengaged from education.

Specialist, bespoke programmes matched to the student's personality, ability and learning style which is monitored daily. Each programme builds on the core values of the National Curriculum and aims to direct the student's attitude back towards formal education, to enable them to reintegrate into mainstream school (re-integration and transition packages available)

Tutors commit to supporting young people in becoming self-managers, creative thinkers, reflective learners, problem solvers, team workers, independent learners, and effective communicators.

Provides opportunities for young people to:

- Apply their skills in plausible contexts or use their skills for real purposes.
- Engage with the world beyond the classroom.
- Integrate learning by linking knowledge within and between the functional areas.
- Spend time planning and developing their work.
- Make choices and decisions, think creatively and act independently.
- Experience success in real situations as a result of using their skills effectively.
- Effectively manage failure and disappointment.

Following an initial assessment with the student, a senior professional will be required to agree the devised plan, liaise with Fresh Start, and who will need to co-ordinate a TAC, as there is likely to be a need for a multidisciplinary approach.

A member of staff must monitor and review progress on the online portal.

Expected outcomes Improved regulation , reengagement

Service description

Mind Jam provides emotional and SEN support for young people through gaming, game design and digital skills.

Through online 1-to-1 sessions, MindJam provides mentorship and guidance to young people to support their emotional needs and SEN identity through positive, non-judgemental and low-demand sessions.

At MindJam the primary focus is to support young people's emotional well-being. They believe that the key to doing so is by engaging them in a world in which they feel safe and comfortable, namely video games. They support young people between the ages 6 – 25.

Our mentors' shared passion for gaming provides a platform to build a trusting, long-lasting relationship from which we can support their individual needs, whether emotional or SEN. All mentors are experienced and trained in supporting neurodivergent individuals including autistic young people and other additional needs such as PDA, ADHD, anxiety, stress and trauma.

Support can take many different forms; it can be playing Fortnite, Minecraft or Roblox. Or through developing a digital skill such as game design, 3D designs, digital art, animation, music editing or video editing. However, the focus for all mentees is the same – to support their emotional wellbeing. These activities are great for relieving stress, anxiety and providing emotional regulation and have been shown to greatly benefit mental health and cognitive development.

Mindjam also offer a counselling service to those that require support.

Attendance updates/ brief session updates can be provided upon request at no extra charge. Formal reports are charged at £50 +VAT and can be provided upon request. Please allow a minimum of a 2-week turnaround.

Service description

Online independent school for students aged 11-18.

“Traditional schooling isn’t the perfect fit for every child. At Minerva’s Virtual Academy, we offer a beacon of hope to all those looking for a fresh start and an exciting new challenge -providing a fully supportive, student-centred, and future-looking school environment to help students thrive and achieve fantastic results.”

Students follow the British curriculum from the comfort and safety of their home, or wherever they are in the world. They learn at their own pace through a mixture of live group lessons and online modules, all with the support and care of a personal mentor. They take their GCSE and A-level exams, join clubs, attend weekly school assemblies, make life-long friends.

Students at the Academy can study up to nine subjects, with five being our suggested minimum in Year 9. The core subjects include Maths, English, Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

In year 10 and 11, all students must study English Language, Maths (at either Higher or Foundation level) and one of the Science options below.

Science Options

Full Science - all three subjects (Biology, Chemistry and Physics) studied in full, leading to six examinations and three separate GCSE grades in Year 11.

Double Science - 66% of the content of all three subjects studied, leading to three examinations and two separate GCSE grades in Year 11.

Individual Science (minimum two) – one combination of Biology and Chemistry, Biology and Physics or Chemistry and Physics studied in full, leading to four examinations and two separate GCSE grades in Year 11.

Sixth Form

A Level's and a Btec in Esports are offered.

Referral process	Refer a Young Person - Targeted Provision
Expected outcomes	Tuition to achieve functional skills, GCSE's, A Levels and reintegration into a school setting

Service description

We provide highly experienced teachers utilising a trauma-informed approach to provide personalised provision and mentorship, considering each young person's unique circumstances, experiences, and emotional needs in the learning process.

We provide 1:1 tuition for up to 18 hours per week.

Some of the young people we work with are unable to attend school due to their Social, Emotional and Mental health needs. They may be unable to leave the house or even their room.

Our tutors ensure lessons are run at the young person's pace and timing. This could involve starting their lessons online, possibly talking to them either side of a door until they are ready to be in the same room. Activities will not be academic but probably based around their interests until the young person is ready to be in the same room and ready to take part in academic work.

We support young people who have severe learning difficulties (SLD) and awaiting a special school place.

Their tutors are qualified teachers, with extensive experience supporting young people with SEND. Every tutor is also paired with a SEND Specialist from our central Support Team, who oversees each lesson, offers strategies tailored to individual needs and consistently monitors and report the attendance and progress of each young person referred to us. The Support Team are also available to participate in EHCP/PEP/Strategy meetings and collate evidence for EHCNA applications when needed.

We offer examination entries (including GCSEs, A-Levels and Functional Skills) and post-16 life-skills packages, equipping young people with practical skills vital for work, learning and life. Additionally,

We deliver English as an Additional Language (EAL) support for unaccompanied asylum-seeking children (UASC), ensuring they feel seen, understood and supported in their educational journey.

We maintain out-of-county consistency, providing reliable support regardless of county barriers.

Service description

Specialist AP tuition and mentoring service focussed on raising standards in the sector by providing needs-based, bespoke, and flexible programmes of education that support re-engagement, re-integration, and inclusion via the development of self-belief and personal ambition within the learner.

They specialise in support for children and young people who may be hard-to-reach, display emotional based school avoidance (EBSA), have been exposed to adverse childhood experiences (ACE), and those with diagnosed or underlying SEND including PMLD, complex needs, neurodiversity and SEMH.

Some of their learners can feel extremely anxious about returning to a formal learning setting. Many have been through adverse experiences in the past and can feel angry and rejected. Others may find the school environment overwhelming and have previously experienced emotionally based school avoidance (EBSA). Their education programmes, support learners to prepare both socially and academically for school. They recognise that carrying through a bond with a trusted adult hugely improves school re-integration outcomes.

While academic attainment is essential for the wellbeing and personal development of all children and young people, in some cases a person may need support to build a positive relationship with learning before they are ready to study.

Many of their learners have struggled to engage with academic content in their past and some have become anxious to leave their homes and have fallen behind with independent life skills as well as academics. Our mentoring programmes focus on supporting re-engagement, life skills and the development of self-confidence and personal ambition. Focus remains on supporting learners to re-integrate confidently into a setting. Mentoring programmes frequently include enrolment onto ASDAN or Arts Awards affording young people the chance to continue to build their academic portfolio.
